1. An examiner's amendment to the record appears below. Should the changes and/or additions be unacceptable to applicant, an amendment may be filed as provided by 37 CFR 1.312. To ensure consideration of such an amendment, it MUST be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee.

Authorization for this examiner's amendment was given in a telephone interview with James Janniello on 2/10/11.

2. The application has been amended as follows:

In claim 14, insert --each of the frequencies indicating how often a characteristic value occurs in the content, -- after "both the determined content score and the user profile content score".

REASONS FOR ALLOWANCE

The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

As for claims 1, 5, 8, 12, 14, and 18, the prior art to Dudkiewicz (US 2005/0172318) teaches a content provider wherein the content provider furnishes meta data describing content to a digest server; the digest server comprising a content digest for the content, wherein the digest server converts the meta data into characteristic values, wherein the digest server calculates an importance level for each of a plurality of content segments, wherein each of the plurality of content segments correspond to at least one of the characteristic values, and wherein the digest server generates the content digest by using the importance levels, the content digest comprising at least one of the content segments, wherein said importance level is a degree of importance; and a client, wherein the client receives the content digest, wherein the client includes a user profile having user profile content scores for at least one rated content segment for a user, and wherein the digest server calculates importance levels for the at least one rated content segment based on a current determined content score for the at least one rated content segment. The prior art to Buehl (US 2002/0104093) discloses the content provider comprises content and metadata and furnishes content and metadata to the digest server. The prior art to Rui (7028325) discloses content segments are sorted along a time axis. The prior art to Abecassis (6408128) discloses wherein a user rates at least one viewed content segment. The prior art to Emori (5619410) teaches frequencies of each keyword candidate, indicating how many times each keyword candidate appears. The prior art of record fails to disclose calculating importance level based on a probability, wherein the probability is determined from at least one of a plurality of frequencies, each of the frequencies indicating how often a characteristic value occurs in the content segment.

Conclusion
